

What they say about boas pcc™ - formerly known as TLPD

Participants and guests faculty comment on their experience of the programme boas pcc™ has been a transformational experience for me. It has given my life a deeper meaning as a person and thus as a coach. The programme has challenged my assumptions and dissolved boundaries. It has expanded my business horizon. It has guided me in my search for new ways to express myself. It has given me the courage to share what I believe in: transcending differences... Soon after the programme I co-authored a book on coaching in Dutch for the public at large. I am now discussing a Chinese version with two publishers in China. I thank Sara Boas for showing me my via™.

"I am writing to thank you for enriching my life. The programme has provided me with renewed clarity, and new and deeper insights. I have recognised my existing coaching skills and developed new ones. By going through the via™ coaching process, learning it and embodying it, I feel that I can give to my full potential as a coach. I now have the motivation and insight to take charge of my own destiny."

"The boas programme greatly enhanced my creative and intuitive skills, while giving a clear structure to focus and implement them. This immediately improved my impact as a coach and consultant... At last I have found a useful and yet subtle approach to interpreting body language. via™ coaching links together body, mind, emotions and spirit, creating a powerful synergy. This is the only coaching methodology I know that shows exactly how to work with the body and its language."

"I was attracted to the programme principally because I know and trust the work of Sara Boas and her holistic approach to coaching is complementary to my own. My experience in the process has helped me to put my own coaching style in perspective and place it in a wider coaching context. I have enjoyed being introduced to a variety of methods in the sessions, allowing me to select techniques for enhancing my own coaching "tool kit". While the programme has certainly helped me to learn skills that are helpful to my coaching practice, more importantly it has served as a professional retreat to question the discipline of coaching and my own approach. Along with other events, it has helped me to become the person I really am – and that is the only way I can be of service to my coachees."

"It is a unique pleasure to be a guest speaker for Sara Boas' coach development programme. I have been impressed by the rich array of experiences, supporting both personal and professional growth, provided for the participants. The atmosphere within the group is one of intimacy and openness and the activities provide a good balance of interaction and reflection. The tools presented provide people with a means to support problem solving and personal evolution at the levels of mind, body and soul. This is an impressive and comprehensive coaching course."

"The programme has been a great learning experience and has significantly developed my knowledge, skills and awareness as a professional coach. It helped me gain clarity about the direction and approach I wish to follow with coaching. The via™ model forms an integral part of my practice and links well with other strength-based approaches. The programme design is holistic, embracing mental, physical, emotional and spiritual aspects. As participants we had the chance to explore and experiment with these media, which has greatly enhanced my self-awareness and capability as a coach."

"Participating in the programme has made me a richer coach and a richer person. I have gathered concrete insights and practical tools and models that I shall apply in the coaching situation... The programme has supported my business position as a coach in a market that becomes more and more competitive... The service quality with respect to accommodation, food, drinks and so on is extraordinary.

The course is led by a great team of people: inspiring, enthusiastic, with great knowledge and skills, analytic and empathic. Sara Boas combines all the elements from her Elemental Leadership model in a wonderful balance: earthy in her comprehensible translations of complex models from her vast knowledge base, watery in her supportive coaching style, airy in her quick intellectual grasping and fiery in her enthusiastic inspiration. It's a pleasure to enjoy a programme from the great presenter, teacher, coach and organiser that she is.

Professional and Fun, Construction and Care, Deepness and Dance, Passionate Learning and Teaching, Compassionate Feedback, Joy and Inspiration, Body and Mind, Business and Poetry, Rhythm and Flow, and more than this..."

"The programme has equipped me with the confidence and know-how to move forward in the coaching profession with courage and credibility. I have been exposed to a world of techniques, experiences and possibilities and have grown personally and professionally, with the support of the other participants and the faculty."

Cathryn Valentine

"Sara has created an impressive programme which is integrative of the intellectual, emotional, physical, energetic and soulful components of being a coach (and human being!). She has effectively brought together awareness of the individual, organisational, societal and global implications of what we do."
